Exciting Scenes Enacted in Oklahoma.

Soldiers Busy Driving Settlers Back Into Kanuag.

A Brush Between Troops and a Band of Invaders.

Many Depredations Committed by Boomers in the Cherokee Strip
-Cattlemen Uneasy at the Outlook.

By Telecroph to The Times.

ST. LOUIS, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The Republic special from Wichita says: The Oklahoma boomers, ated Press.] The Republic special from Wichita says: The Oklahoma boomers, having fied to the woods upon the appearance of Lieut. Carson and a body of soldiers, scouts were sent out to hunt them down, but instructed to not resort to violence. In what is known as Crutch county, northeast of Oklahoma station, quite a large number of boomers had gathered around William Beek. Among the number were his daughter, a relative, Samuel Anderson and an old man named William Adams. Their property had been destroyed in a former rald, and they cherished bitter animosity against the troops. Their hiding place was discovered by an Indian scout, and reported to Lieut. Carson, who sent a detachment after them.

As soon as the boomers saw the troops coming they made preparations to stand their ground and protect themselves. When surrounded and called upon to surrender, they began parieying and made threats which exasperated the soldiers, who charged the party, but seeing the boomers armed, and having orders to avoid a conflict, they dismounted and by an adroit movement part of the boomers were relieved of their arms. Anderson and Adams, however, held out and made a desperance of their arms. Anderson and Adams, however, held out and made a desperance received a terrible blow from the butt of a revolver and the latter was struck in the mouth. After being disarmed the boomers fought with clubs and stones, but were soon compelled to surrender. Several soldiers received slight wounds, but none serious. There has been great excitement among the boomers since the conflict, and while all express determination to make similar resistance, they are seeking safer hiding places.

KANSAS CITY, March 19.—A. Times special from Oklahoma City reports everything quiet there this evening. United States troops are still driving out boomers. The Kansas United States Attorney has no jurisdiction over Oklahoma, that territory being in charge of the United States Attorney at It. Smith, Ark.

CHIEF MAYES AND THE CATTLEMEN.

CALDWELL (Kan.), March 19.—The semi nual meeting of the Cherokee Strip Live sok Association was called to order this Stock Association was called to order this afternoon by President Hewing. J. B. Mayes, Chief of the Cherokees, made an address, in which he assured the members of the association that they need have no fear in regard to retaining possession of the land; that they had leased it for dive years and there was netwing that could remove them so long as they paid their rent.

After the speech an opportunity was given all those desiring to ask the Chief questions. Among the questions asked was his opinion in regard to the Cherokee Commission, to which he replied: "That will amount to nothing. All they will do is to come down here and have a good time. We will not sell for $1.25 per acre."

Another asked what they would do if the soldiers attempted to remove them, to which Mayes replied: "It will be an easy matter to stop that. If the soldiers attempt to put you out, all that will be necessary is to serve an injunction on them."

Another asked: "What will we do with the hemeres?" Mayes replied: "We will you out, all that will be necessary is to serve an injunction on them."

Another asked: "What will we do with the boomers?" Mayes replied: "We will take care of the boomers. You stay with us and we will stay with you."

At the conclusion of Mays's speech, Snyder, a wealthy Kansas City cattleman, made a motion that the Chief be elect ed an honorary member of the association, which was carried without a dissenting vote. President Hewing then presented the situation as being the most favorable in the history of the association. Tomorrow the regular election of officers takes place. Notwithstanding the brave front put on by the leaders, good ranges can be bought for a great deal less than a few months ago.

OUTRAGES BY BOOMERS.
GEUDA SPRINGS (Kan.), March 19.—On GEUDA SPRINGS (Kan.), March 19.—On Sunday morning cattlemen along the border for a great distance on the Cherokee Strip awakened to find their fences all destroyed. On Sunday night the work of destruction was renewed, and it is thought stables, corrais and other property will gonext. It is thought that this is done in retaliation for the driving out of the boomers from the Creek and Seminole ceded lands. People here and at Arkansas City are quiet, and seem determined to stand loyally by the law and Presidential orders. They feel, however, that if the law-abiding are kept out, all others should be, so that all may have an equal chance in the selection of lands.

Whitelaw Reid Will Accept.

New York, March 19.—A reporter of the Sun this evening saw Whitelaw Reid for a moment. Mr. Reid sald his nomination as moment. Mr. Reid said his nomination as Minister to France came without solicitation on his part. He feels greatly honored by the distinction, and hopes it may be thought also a compliment to the profession, whose good opinion and honor, he said, he values more than any office. Mr. Reid added that he would certainly try to arrange his business so as to accept the appointment if confirmed.

Important Meeting of the State Board of Trade.

Board of Trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.— | By the Associated Press.| A meeting of the Executive Committee of the State Board of Trade was held this afternoon. Word was received from the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce that affiliation with the board had been agreed ways. Commerce that amination with the board had been agreed upon, and Maj. E. W. Jones has been chosen as member of the Executive Committee. An exhibition of Los Angeles county products will be made

Executive Committee. An exhibition of Los Angeles county products will be ma de in thisicity as soon as it can be prepared, and one also will be sent to the travelling exhibition now in the East.

W. H. Mills suggested that Los Angeles be asked to send here as many specimens of semi-tropical products as possible. He presented an outline of the plan for the establishment in the East of agencies of the Executive Committee which could be made the headquarters for the circulation of publications relating to the coast.

It is proposed to make a permanent exhibition in Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Nashville, Chicago, Milwaukee and other leading cities of the country. The transportation of products from here could doubtless be secured free. In the speaker's judgment the result accomplished would be much the same as that hoped for from the recent projected London exhibition. The various counties could be depended upon to furnish products for twenty permanent exhibits. Oroville and Southern California could furnish oranges, and Fresno would send rasins. Those interested in the great land sales now being held throughout the State would readily furnish products from the locality which it is desired to advertise.

General Manager Brown reported continued success of the traveling exhibition in the East and the work done relative to arranging for a traveling exhibition in Great Britain was reported in detail. The question of securing free transportation for members of the Executive Committee to and from the meetings was referred to a special committee.

NEEDS REFORM.

The Rule Allowing Curious Senators to Call for Information.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—|By the Associated Press.] The Senate had a long debate today on the proposed amendment to the rules relative to resolutions calling for information. Senator Sherman said it had been agreed to unanimously in the Commit-tee on Rules. The evil it was proposed to remedy was calling for information at the request of a single Senator, without any request of a single Senator, without any inquiry as to the expense involved, or as to whether the information was not already printed and available. Such a resolution left no discretion with the heads of departments, who were required to comply with them, although the furnishing of information sometimes necessitated the employment of 40 to 50 clerks for a month or two. He knew of one case where 100 clerks had to be employed for two months in copying papers called for unnecessarily. These resolutions of inquiry, which sometimes involved thousands and tens of thousands of dollars, were adopted without examination. The committees of the Senate could always be trusted. The Senate would not try to smother an inquiry.

The matter was discussed at length. Messrs. Hoar, Hawley, Gorman, Blair, Cail and Spooner declared opposition to the rule. Finally the rule, with amendments, was recommended to the Committee on Rules, and, after an executive session, the Senate adjourned.

MR. MOODY'S GOOD-BY SERMON LAST NIGHT.

He Preaches Upon the Shortest Text in the Bible-"God Is Love"-The Difference Between a Sinner and Before 7 o'clock last night Hazard's Pavilion was crowded to overflowing, and it was impossible for a single additional person to get inside of the immense building. There were hundreds of people hanging about each door to the hall, and the ushers had a hard time of it in keeping them from breaking the doors down. The reporters have been in the habit of going to the back door some time after the front doors were closed, and the ushers would let them in, but last night the ushers had contrarywise been charged, and the reporters' door was guarded by a little man who had made up his mind to let no one in, and when a Herald and a Times man showed up, he refused to admit them, and sent for a squad of police officers. Finally one of the old ushers came to the door and escorted the scribes to another door when they had no trouble in being admitted.

There must have been over 6000 peo-ple in the hall, for every seat was oc-cupied and standing room was at a premium.

Before beginning his sermon Mr.
Moody spoke in the highest terms of the Y.M.C.A. of this city, and said that it is the best organization of the kind on the coast. He advised any rich man who might be in the congregation to take a hand in the that the building is in the very best part of the city, and believed that the who are at the head of it will do a great deal of good.

"I have a very short text tonight, but there is a great deal in it," said Mr. Moody. "God is love." I do not believe there is a being in the world who would refuse to come to God if he believed that sentence. There is one thing that has never been conquered, and that is a mother's love. It is not because she gave us birth or anything of that kind; it is because she loves us. There are hundreds of people in this audience who say that God is not love; but that old book says he is, and we all know that it tells the truth. God loves a sinner, but he hates sin. not love; but that old book says he is, and we all know that it tells the truth. God loves a sinner, but he hates sin. There are a great many who do not understand this, and teach a doctrine that is false. If you teach a child that when it is good it belongs to God and when it is bad it belongs to the devil, this is a false story. If your child has the smallpox you love the child, but you hate the smallpox, and it is the same with God and sin." In closing his sermon, Mr. Moody gave the citizens of this city some good advice as to how they should conduct themselves in the future. The last of Mr. Moody's meetings last night was closed with prayer, and an after meeting for the benefit of converts was held.

Mr. Moody will leave today for San Diego, where he will open his next series of meetings.

A JEALOUS MAN.

He Makes an Assault on His Defense less Wife. An Italian named M. Risio was ar rested yesterday by Deputy Constable Vignes and taken for arraignment before Justice Lockwood, charged with having threatened to take his wife's life, and thereby causing her no little anxiety. The couple live on Ann street, near the Southern Pacific depot, and until yesterday morning their relations were, to all appearances, of the most amicable character. At that time, however, Risio, who is supposed to have heard something derogatory to his wife's honor, obtained possession of a revolver, and in a jealous frenzy swort to end, her existence before the swore to end her existence before the sun shone on another day. After a violent struggle with her frenzied spouse, the poor woman wrenched the pistol from his hand and things qui-eted down again. Just as she was pistol from his hand and things quieted down again. Just as she was congratulating herself that the matter, had ended in such a satisfactory manner for every one concerned, Risio returned to the house with another pistol in his hand, which, it was afterwards learned, he had just bought. The woman luckily escaped into a neighbor's house and as soon as possible afterwards came up town and lodged the information necessary for his arrest with the Justice, The man was committed to jail in default of $300 bonds, until his examination on the 26th inst., the wife in the meantime taking with her the three little children, and finding some secluded harbor of refuge.

On its face are engraved the words: "A. B. Lawson, Deputy Sheriff, I.os Angeles County," and on the reverse side, "M. G. Aguirre to A. B. Lawson, 1889." Capt. Lawson was completely surprised, and did not understand why he should be so honored, until he remembered that he has given Martin some assistance in waking up several important cases. Champagne was opened, and the health of both the Sheriff and detective were drunk, when the party adjourned.

How a Young Lady Held Converse with Her "Influence."

Notwithstanding the innumerable exposures of the humbugs of spiritualism there is still a large number of people who incline to its superstitions, notwithstanding the fact that they are in every other particular as intelligent, acute and sensible as their neightors. Let them hear a mouse in the wainscot or a rat in the garret, or anything else which causes a scratching or tapping on the walls or ceiling of the room they occupy, and they throw all their otherwise good sense to the winds and imagine that the spirit of some one of their dead friends or relatives has returned to look them up. In a certain house situated in the best quarter of the city dwell a lady and her two accomplished daughters, who, in spite of the high education and religious training they have received, yet persist in asserting their belief in things supernatural. At least they did up to a few nights ago, but it is not known how they view the matter just at present, owing to an event which happened to the elder of the two young ladies.

The mother and younger daughter having gone out to make a call, the elder in company with a young married couple and a mutual friend of theirs, a gay young fellow named Frank, were sitting together in the parlor when the conversation veered round to "spooks." Seeing that the maiden was most profoundly versed in spiritual lore, he determined to put her to the test. Bidding the party a regretful "adieu," he apologized for leaving so early, and disappeared. Soon afterward the young lady, while sitting apart from her friends, was attracted by three distinct taps, which apparently came from beneath the table. A search was made in the room, but nothing could be discovered. Just as they sat down again "What was that?" she asked her friends. neighbors. Let them hear a mouse in the wainscot or a rat in the garret, or the noises occurred again.

"What was that?" she asked her friends.
"Spooks," suggested her married friend, who is a reader of THE TIMES.
"Ah!" sighed the maiden, "at last!" A breathless silence ensued, and a third time came the taps, but from the far end of the room.
The maiden whose every nerve was strained to the highest pitch of excitement, tremblingly inquired: "Is that you, Pinky?"
The three raps answered "Yes," and were seemingly right at her feet. For

The three raps answered "Yes," and were seemingly right at her feet. For nearly half an hour did the young lady hold solemn confab with her dear departed, plying her ghostly visitant with questions grave and gay, the answers being rapped back in a manner that was truly surprising.

Suddenly the rapping ceased, and in spite of all her endeavors the maiden was unable to recall the spook, and overcome by the unaccustomed strain she sank back in a [istate of ecstasy amid the cushions on the lounge.

In the meantime, however, if she had been strong enough to bear the shock, she might have seen her married friend on the back porch busily engaged in bringing Frank's clothes to a presentable state after his visit to the cellar beneath the parlor. The boys would neath the parlor. The boys would have kept the joke to themselves, but as the mother and sister on their return made such ridiculous manifesta-tions of delight at the spiritual visit, they thought the joke too good to be buried, and so it is given to the public.

DUG IT UP.

A Man Who Was Obliged to Pay

His Debts or Go to Jail. Rather a singular case was disposed of in Justice Lockwood's court yesterday. Some six weeks ago T. S. Harvey and Harry Zimmerman were partners in the management of Washington Gardens, but they dissolved business and Harvey attempted to run the and Harvey attempted to run the place. On the 27th of February three suits were commenced by H. J. Woollacott, Joe Bayer and E. Barnett against Harvey and a keeper was placed in charge. The amounts prayed for aggregated about $600. Harvey paid no attention to the case and a default was taken and an execution issued. Constable Clements sold the effects, which consisted of a small amount of liquor and some had-room furniture, for $120 to and an execution issued. Constable Clements sold the effects, which consisted of a small amount of liquor and some bed-room furniture, for $120 to Capt. Lawson, who figured as plaintiff in the case. As the stuff attached did not cover the judgment, steps were taken to learn whether Harvey possessed any other property. The officers found that three days before the suits were commenced Harvey qualified on a criminal bond in the sum of $2000, and swore he was worth $3000 in real estate and Cab Company stock. Yesterday morning he was cited to appear before Justice Lockwood for examination as to what property he owned. On the witness stand he stated that since the $2000 bond was given he had assigned $2000 worth of real estate to his father, and his cab stock, which is worth $100 a share, to other parties.

During the examination these persons were subpeneaed, and the case was postponed until 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

afternoon.

Before Harvey left the courtroom the Court ordered him to turn over his gold watch and chain, but his attorney, Judge Adams, becoming responsible for the watch, Harvey was allowed to keep it until 4 o'clock.

At the hour set for the afternoon session Harvey walked into court and handed over four shares of cab stock and his watch and chain, and he was allowed to go. He found himself in a queer predicament and thought he had better settle up.

There was a well attended meeting of the members of the Iroquois Club of the members of the Iroquois Club last night at their rooms on Main street and a large amount of executive business was performed. The following officers were present: Chairman, A. F. Mackey; Secretary, A. C. Clarke; Treasurer, H. T. D. Wilson; Sagarman, H. W. Patton; Medicine Man, J. Moriarty. At the close of the executive session a committee of three was appointed to make the necessary arrangements for the holding of a grand entertainment at the Opera-house in the near future. NEW BUITS.

A Number of Legal Snarls Started in the Courts.

The following new suits were filed sterday with the County Clerk: W. G. Cochran vs. M. D. Johnson, petition for writ of mandamus to command said M. D. Johnson, as City Treasurer of Los Angeles city, to pay a certain warrant for $100, due to Mrs. F. T. Fitzgerald for salary as school teacher, issued March 2, 1889, by the Board of Education, and by her in-dorsed to plaintiff for a valuable consideration, the City Treasurer having dorsed to plaintiff for a valuable consideration, the City Treasurer having refused to pay the same on demand.

E. S. Weaver vs. J. J. Ayers, T. J. Stephens, Harper & Reynolds Co., S. A. Hoffman, Los Angeles Planing Mill Company and A. H. Carey. The plaintiff in this case alleges that between 1st January, 1889, and 23d February, 1889, he, at the instance and request of J. J. Ayers, furnished materials, consisting of paints, etc., and did certain work in construction of a certain residence on the lot on the northwest corner Pearl and Ottawa streets belonging to Ayers, for which he was to receive $101.50 on completion. As only $20 of this amount has been paid, he sues for the balance and $100 attorneys' fees, with costs. As the other defendants claim some interest in the land adverse to plaintiff, he prays judgment that their claims be adjudged subject to his claim and lien; and that the said premises be sold and proceeds applied to payment of his claim. The suit is attributable to a defaulting contractor, who collected his money from Col. Ayers and skipped out without settling with his sub-contractors.

Arthur Bray vs. Philip Geldner. Suit to obtain judgment for $350, with interest at 2 per cent. per month from August 27, 1888, compounded quarterly, alleged to be due on a certain promissory note secured by a mortgage on lot 13, block D, Howard & Co.'s subdivision, Bliss tract; also for $12.68 paid for taxes on said property; for $70 attorney's fees and for costs, and the usual decree for the sale of said property.

J. B. Young vs. the San Fernando Valley Hundry werent Company. This paid for taxes on said property; for $70 attorney's fees and for costs, and the usual decree for the sale of said property.

J. B. Young vs. the San Fernando Valley Improvement Company. This action is brought to obtain judgment for $32,000, with interest thereon at 7 per cent. per annum from March 12, 1889, alleged to be the amount of damages sustained by plaintiff by reason of the defendant's refusal to comply with the terms of a certain agreement whereby the company agreed to sell the W 4 of N + of section 21, township 2 N, range 16 W, excepting therefrom rights of way for a railroad, a road, and the right of ditching. The sum ageed upon on May 28, 1887, was $12,000, payable as follows: $3000 down, $3000 on or before November 28, 1887, and $6000 on or before May 28, 1889, with semi-annual interest on all deferred payments at 8 per cent. per annum, the buyer to pay all taxes due after 1887. The plaintiff made two payments, aggregating $4887.20, and also paid taxes and twice offered the balance, but the defendant refused to accept it; hence the suit.

F. M. Ward, W. R. E. Ward and Ben E. Ward vs. the Pasadena Lake Vineyard Land and Water Company and J. B. Young. These three suits are, with the exception of the amounts and the number of shares held, exactly the same, and are brought to obtain decrees declaring a certain advertised sale, which was held September 6, 1888, of all capital stock of said company on which a certain assessment was unpaid, to be null and void, and to require defendant, Young, who bought the stock at said sale, to deliver it up upon payment of the amounts paid by him for said stock.

George W. Cooke vs. John H. Coxe. Suit to obtain judgment for the sum of $1357.53, alleged to be due to defendant for goods sold and delivered to defendant at his special instance and request, by different firms, who assigned their claims to plaintiff.

WANTED HIS TEAM.

A 'Curious Complication That Got

Into the Courts. Yesterday morning the case of T. J. Sparks vs. Adam Clements came up for trial before Justice Savage in the City Township Court. It appears that on the 31st day of January, 1889, the plaintiff was in possession of a hay wagon, 12 bales of alfalfa hay weighwagon, 12 bates of affatta nay, weighing about 3000 pounds, and a two-horse team. One of these horses, named "Billy," was partly the cause of the controversy. On the day in question, a man named Nash, while driving along Aliso street, pulled up outside defendant's yard, and asking the latter, who stood by, to watch his team, went away. Clements soon got tired of watching, however, and getting on the wagon he drove into his own yard, and unhitched the team. Nash came back after a long time and asked for the team. Clements refused to allow him to take the property away. However, one horse was taken away by some means or other, and the owner sought to recover the rest of his property through the intricacies of the law. He demanded judgment for $200, the value of the property in question, for $75 damages for time and money expended in pursuit thereof, and for costs of suit. The matter was taken under advisement by the Justice. ing about 3000 pounds, and a two-horse

PAST FINDING OUT. The Ways of Providence and a Petty

Jury.

An ambitjous young Los Angeles lawyer was trying a criminal case recently. He believed that beneath the frock coat encircling his manly form there was hid a future Nestor of criminal practice. It was a murder case and among his first. The proof against his client was almost conclusive. But he believed his eloquence would clear him, and advance him many rounds up the ladder of fame.

He worked day and night on the the ladder of fame.

He worked day and night on the case, and the further it went the clearer appeared the guilt of the prisoner. Filled, however, with the idea of his eloquence, he at last delivered a most tremendous address to the jury. It was full of quotations, poetry and all the things young attorneys generally sling in with such killing effect. He mentioned Homer, and Solomon; he quoted from the "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire." and referred in familiar terms to "our experience as a lawyer and a man."

The Prosecuting Attorney replied very briefly, and showed why the prisoner was guilty. The jury retired, and the young Nestor of the bar impatiently marched up and down. Minute after minute passed—no jury. Hour after hour—no jury. Next morning the disheveled jury announced that they could not agree, and were discharged. Very much elated, and at least two inches taller, the attorney condescendingly received the compliment of the Judge upon this extraordinary verdict. Congratulations showered in upon the radiant counsel, and he began to consider whether he had not better move into more expansive offices.

As he was walking down the street, a tall, grizzled man with bony brown features and hands stopped him. It was one of the jurors; a man who had sat, silent and unmoved, during the trial.

"Well, ye saved his neck," he slowly

This somewhat staggered the attorney, but he made no reply.

"Boy," said the old fellow, as he quietly tapped him in the chest, "did ye know 't your pap an' me mined in the diggin's together in '49? Did you know he shared his blanket with me, and fussed me in sickness?"

"No," replied the astonished attor-

"No," replied the astonished attorney.

"Well, it's so," reflectively expectorating, and tapping with his lean, brown finger still, but his features impassive and showing no emotion.

"Why do you speak of it?" queried the lawyer.

"It's this way," slowly. "Thet man was guilty, sure. I saw thro' him, an' so did the jury. But I saw you was on the other side. I said to myself, says I: "Thet's ole partner's boy, an' he's fer him.' And I didn't say no more, nor listen, but when thet jury went out I jest hung it, and I'd hung it tell hell froze over. Ole Californians don't forget, son," and administering a last gentle tap, the juror moved reflectively away, leaving the Nestor of the bar speechless.

Torturing, Disfiguring Skin Diseases

Wonderful Cure of Salt Rheum. A minister and his little boy cured of an obstinate Skin Disease by Hands useless for two years. Doctors said case was incurable. Cured by Cuticura.

A minister and his little boy cured of an obstinate Skin Disease by the Cuticura Remedies. Praises them everywhere—in the pulpit, home, and in the street.

Cured by Cuticura.

I have had a most wonderful cure of salt rheum. For five years I have suffered with this disease. I had it on my face, arms and hands. I was unable to do anything whatever with my hands for over two years. I tried hundreds of remedies, and not one had the least effect. The doctor said my case was incurable. I saw your advertisement, and concluded to try the CUTICURA REMBULES: incredible as it may seem, after using one box of CUTICURA, and two cakes of CUTICURA REASOLV-BNT, I find I am entirely cured. Those who think this letter exaggerated may come and see me and find out for themselves.

I must extend to you the thanks of one of my customers, who has been cured, by using CUTICURA REMEDIES, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of slokness or fever eight years aro. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well—sound as a dollar. He requests me to use his name, which is H. H. CASON, merchant of this place.

JOHN V. MINOM, Druggist,

Gainsboro, Tenn.

I have been troubled with tetter on my face for several years, and doctored with several doctors, but received no benefit. I used your CUTTUURA REMEDIES last spring according to directions, and can now say that I am entirely cured. I am satisfied your CUTTUURA REMEDIES are just what you recommend them to be. HUGH B. AYRES, Smithville, W. Va.

I have been cured of a most unbearable itching skin disease by the CUTICURA REMEDIES. They have canabled me to escape years of suffering. You may use my names a reference, and anyone who can to the to store a reference, and anyone who can to the to store a reference and write me, inclusing stamp when the control of the them everywhere—in the pulpit, home, and in the street.

For about thirteen years I have been troubled with eczema or some other cutaneous disease which all remedies failed to cure. Hearing of the CUTICURA REMEDIES I resolved to give them a trial, and purchased one bottle of CUTICURA. RESOLVENT, one box of CUTICURA, and one cake CUTICURA, four cakes of CUTICURA, and one cake CUTICURA. For cakes of CUTICURA, and one bottle of CUTICURA, four cakes of CUTICURA SOAP, and one bottle of CUTICURA SOAP, in addition to my own case, my baby boy, then about five months old, was suffering with what I supposed to be the same disease as mine to such an extent that his head was coated over with a solid scab, from which there was a constant flow of pus which was sickening to look on, besides two large tumor-like kernels en the back of his head. I hanks to you and your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES his scalp is perfectly woll, and the kernels have been scattared so that there is only one little place by his left ear, and that which was descreed by the disease. I would not substitute that the disease is not of hair, much better than that which was descreed by the disease. I would not substitute that which was descreed by the disease. I would not substitute that which was descreed by the disease. I would not substitute that which was descreed by the disease. I would not substitute that which was descreed by the disease. HENRY GILLMAN, A BARBER DROPS DEAD IN THE STREET,

The Result of an Apoplectic Fit— The Wheelbarrow Man Will Start East Today-A Consumptive Dies on the East-bound Train.

About 9:80 last night a man rushed About 9:30 last night a man rushed through the Anheuser saloon on North Main street to the rear of the hall, with his right hand on his stomach, as if in pain. A few seconds later he returned in the same manner, but on reaching the sidewalk he staggered a few steps and then fell in aheap on the pavement, frothing at the mouth. Officer McKenzie, who was close by, walking his beat, rushed to his aid, and thinking from his symptoms that he had taken polson, he telephoned from the saloon for the patrol wagon. The man never moved or spoke from the time he fell, but no one of those who crowded round his prestrate form imagined that he was dead. He was conveyed to the police station in the wagon, and in the absence of Dr. Choate, the eity physician, Dr. Clarke was called in. He at once pronounced the man dead, and from the symptoms judged that the cause of death was an apoplectic it.

The deceased was immediately recognized at the city fail by Capt. Harris as Henry Gillman, the proprietor of a barber shop on Second street between Spring and Main streets. The deceased was a man of steady habits, about 45 years of age, and very much respected by those who knew him. He was divorced from his wife some two years ago, and leaves two children, a boy and a girl, to mourn his loss.

Early this morning A. Fuhrberg, the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, met a Times reporter, and told him that he left Gillman, who was an old friend of his, at Juenger & Cross's drugstore, on Main street, about 4 p.m., and that Gillman showed him a bottle which he said he intended to have filled with poison. As Fuhrberg thought the matter was only a jest, he paid no further attention to it until learning of his friend's death. The truth of the matter will probably be learned at the inquest today. through the Anheuser saloon on North Main street to the rear of the hall, with Mrs. Holst presented a petition protesting against the extension of Ninth street, and the same was filed.

A petition from Dolores Cook for a road along the Castaca Cafion was read and filed.

On motion of Mr. Rowan the board ordered that Mr. Lauterio be authorized to search up the warrants for January and February, 1888, immediately, he having refused to do so when ordered by the County Auditor. The Delhi school bonds matter was postponed until April 5th.

A number of proposals for renting rooms for the new Superior Courts were referred to the new Judges for investigation.

were referred to the new Judges for investigation.
On motion of Mr. Martin the County Clerk was ordered to turn over to the County Treasurer all property now in his hands that has been stolen or embezzled or exhibits deposited with him, so that the same can be legally sold, after having been kept for six months, as directed by section 1411, Penal Code, this State.

The board then adjourned until today.

DIED ON THE TRAIN.

A Consumptive on the Way to Yuma Falls by the Wayside. Coroner Meredith yesterday went but to Pomona to hold an inquest on the body of an unknown man who died on the train near that place Monday afternoon. But one witness was examined, Judge McComas. who was on the train returning from the Legislature. The Judge said that he was sitting directly behind the deceased, when the conductor came through the car and asked him where he was going. The man replied in a whisper, "Yuma." The conductor then asked him for his ticket, when he replied that he did not have any, and pulled out his purse and paid his fare. The Judge said that the man appeared to be in the last stages of consumption, and he remarked to the conductor that he would not live to the end of his journey. When near Pomona the man died without giving his name, when the body was taken from the cars and the Coroner notified. The deceased was about 5 feet 8 inches in height, with sandy mustache and chin whiskers, rather thin, brown hair, hazel or blue eyes, and had a peculiar lump over his right eye. There was absolutely nothing about the man by which his identity could be established, with the exception of a hospital ticket dated Honolulu, May 16, 1888, and made out to August Olesen, which was prebably his name, as he had the appearance of being a native of Sweden. The jury returned a verdict of death from natural causes. The body was buried at Pomona. when the conductor came through the Ph elan Goes to Jail for Another Ninety Days.

William Phelan, who has been before the public several times for departure from the path of moral rectitude, was tried in Justice Lockwood's courty esterday for battery and given 90 days in the County Jail. He arrived at the jail during the course of the afternoon and was greeted as an old comrade by most of the prisoners who have been in any length of time. Phelan was tried over a year ago for breaking into the Trans office with urglarious intent. Up to that time he had not been regarded as a criminal by the police. He had been in some scrapes and bore a pretty soiled reputation, but he was regarded simply as one of the toughs. The boy is now only 16 years old. He was dismissed with a severe reprimand for his burglary at the Times office, buthe was soon arrested again and was put in jail, and waited month after month for trial. He was in the lower tank, and, boy as he was, association with the degraded specimens that find their way into county jails, had its effect. He went in a reckless boy; he came out a hardened criminal, prepared to embark in any line of crookedness that turned up. For a liberal criminal education boys need hunt for no better preparatory schools than the tanks of the County Jail. They are recommended to all who are turning their attention in that direction. Phelan is a boy yet, but the police think he will do now as a "crook."

W. H. C. Brotherton of Santa Monica has arrived with his wheelbarrow and faithful dog. He will start from the Plaza today at 2 p.m., on his long journey to Cincinnati, O., and he promises to wheel his load the entire distance. The wheelbarrow is decked distance. The wheelbarrow is decked over with tin to keep its contents from the weather, and it is arranged so that it can be converted into a passable bedstead. He left Santa Monica Monday amid enthusiastic applause, and was escorted outside the beautiful sea side resort by the leading citizens and their local band. His barrow is beautifully painted and has inscribed on the sides, "From Los Angeles, California, to Cincinnati, Ohio." His route will be via Barstow, The Needles, Albuquerque, Kansas City and Chicago. The Times will hear from him from time to time, and will keep its readers advised of his movements, as a great deal of interest is manifested in the success of his efforts to advertise Southern California.

A Speculative Constable.

Another case of swindling by a Deputy Constable has just come to light, and is worthy of further consideration at the hands of the authorities.

eration at the hands of the authorities.

A few days ago, while working on the railroad track near Pomona, an old German named Joseph Rosma, was asked by a man, who was a stranger to him, if would like an easier job. He naturally replied that he would, and accompanied his new acquaintance to Pomona. On arrival at that place, he was taken before a justice and convicted of vagrancy, with a sentence of ten days in the County Jail. As the old man does not understand very much of the English language, it was a very easy matter for the Constable to make him believe that the court was a labor bureau, and that he was making arrangements to obtain a job for him.

EASTERN society is "all torn up' over the coming centennial ball, to be held in New York on April 13th. The great question was as to who should be the sixteen ladies to take part in the opening quadrille. THE President found it necessary suggest to the Indiana men that it is important that they should not be too avaricious in their demands for office, and that they should not leave them-selves open to the criticism—which they have already done for that matter-that they want the earth. The President ventured the suggestion to a delegation which has urged the appointment of ex-Congressman Johnston of that State for the office of Commissioner of Pensions. Johnston s, moreover, the man who, according to the statements of Indiana men, sacrificed his own chances of reëlection to Congress in order to save the State of Indiana for Harrison. How this was accomplished is one of the unex-plained mysteries of the very curious politics of the State of Indiana.

DOES AMERICAN FARMING PAY?

Many of late have begun to question whether American farming is a profit able industry. Dr. George B. Loring contributes a valuable letter on this subject to the March number of the North American Review.

Dr. Loring finds the law of this vast industry to be the cultivation of those crops which are adapted to a local market, and the occupation of land lying near that market. This law is not yet universal, but it applies to all the older sections of the country, and goes with diversified industries whereever they create large cities and towns. It is in regions where industry is diversified that farm lands reach the greatest value. Thus in New York State land is valued at $44.41 per acre, in Massachusetts at $50.27 per acre, in New Jersey at $65.16 per acre, in Illinois at $31.87 per acre, in Wisconsin at $23.30 per acre. From such data Dr. Loring maintains that "farms command good prices and are in good demand where an enterprising and busy population is engaged in diversified industry, and where a fertile soil yields a liberal crop; and they are in good demand because their cultivation is profitable. That there are unprofitable farms in many of the States is evident from the fact that they are abandoned by their owners. But it is a striking fact also that even where the number of farms diminishes the agricultural products increase as the cultivation is transformed to more kindly acres. Farms well selected. well manned, well cultivated, are always profitable." Southern California is preëminently a section which fulfills these requirements. In no portion of the world can so diversified a list of products be raised with profit. It is easier to tell what cannot than what can be grown here. Where farmers have failed to make money in this section, it will almost invariably be, found that the fault lies with the farmer himself. Our tillers of the soil are too apt to be impatient. They are not satisfied to begin by raising what they consume,

There is no doubt that the man who will bring to Southern California eastern thrift and patience, as applied to farming, can make a good living from the start, and within comparatively few years have a comfortable compe

SOME WATER.

The mathematical editor of the Pasadena Union has made the following calculation of the amount of water that has descended upon Los Angeles county during the late rainfall. Who says that this is a dry sec tion?

Assuming the rain to have failen to the uniform depth of eight inches in Los Angeles county, the total precipitation for the county, since last Tuesday morning, was $8.924.49,161,600 cubic inches, or 168,504,-220,743 ralions. This vast volume of water would fill a reservoir one mile square and two-thirds of a mile deep. The weight of this bedy of water would be 1,408,871,812,750 pounds, or 704,435,906 tons. If placed in tanks and loaded on freight cars, the capacity of each car being 20 tons, 35,221,705 cars would be required. These cars, assuming each to be 40 feet long, would constitute a train 206,832 miles in length, or reaching more than ten and one-half times around the earth. As these figures represent only the rainfail of the past few days, or only a little more than one-third of the precipitation for the season, the respective amounts multiplied by three will represent the water supply of Los Angeles county for the year. Our reservoir, one mile square, must then be increased to a depth of two miles to hold all the water that has fallen to date during the season of 1888-89.

A HEAVY BURDEN.

Referring to the burden placed upon the State by the scandalous extravagance of the recent Legislature, the San Francisco Bulletin says:

San Francisco Bulletin says:

The 85 cents on the $100 to be paid in California this year for the support of the State Government will be the lighest State tax imposed in the United States, with the single exception of Nevada, whose tax last year was 90 cents. The average State tax in the United States may be set down at 40 cents. The tax of Vermont is only 12 cents. In New York, with a heavy debt, it was last year only 29 cents. The increased burden will bear with special severity on the south as a result of inflated values there. Gov. Waterman has used none of the great powers which his office confers on him, to restrain the wild extravarance of the Legislature. He is the constitutional drag on the legislative coach, but the mechanism was inoperative. If Heliogabulus was at the head of the State Government things could not have fallen our worse. An office which is also regarded as important-by the politicians is that of Public Printer. A prominent Indiana man also seeks this place, and he has very influential supporters. It is Col. Holloway, the son-nlaw of Oliver P. Morton. Mr. Holloway is a practical printer, and has good executive capacity. He is also understood to have strong support among those who are near to the throne. A significant fact in his canvass for the place is that he is very confident that he will be appointed, and acts as if he had some assurance that he would be.

Wassington, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The President today withdrew from the Senate the nomination of Eugene Schuyler to be Assistant Scretary of State, which was made on the 13th inst. It is learned that the Committee on Foreign Relations after consideration of the case, asked that the nomination be withdrawn, coupling the request, it is understood, with an intimation that otherwise it would be reported adversely. This action was taken on account of an assault made by Schuyler, in his book, entitled, "American Diplomacy," upon Elliu B. Washburn, reflecting upon his official conduct while Seretary of State, together with reflections upon the administration of President Grant and the Senate, and also, it is said, on account of charges affecting Schuyler's personal conduct in Europe. asked that the nomination be withdrawn

J. Lowrie Bell, who was yesterday appointed general superintendent of the railway mail, service, is 50 years of age and was born in Reading, Pa. In his 28th year he entered the service of the Philadelphia and Reading as a cierk in the freight department. After several years' efficient, service he was advanced to the position of general freight agent. He served in that capacity until 1880, when he was made general traffic manager of the Philadelphia and Reading system and served until March I, 1888, when at the expiration of the receivership of the road he withdrew from its service and has since been engaged in looking after the railroad and coal interests of other parties. He has always been a stanch Republican in politics. His intimate knowledge of the railroad business renders his appointment to the general superintendency of the railway mail service one of peculiar fitness. He took the necessary oath late this afternoon and will enter upon his new duties tomorrow.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] One of the matters considered at the Cabinet meeting today was the case of an Illinois postmaster, whose recase of an Illinois postmaster, whose removal was asked by one of the Illinois Congressmen because of the postmaster's political activity. It was admitted by the Congressman that the office was well managed, and the matter was called to the attention of the Cabinet for the reason that the action taken in this case might constitute a precedent hereafter.

Postmaster-General Wannmaker said tonight that he did not feel at liberty to talk about what took place at the Cabinet meeting. There is reason to believe, however, that the result was adverse to the wishes of the Illinois Congressman, but it is not known whether or not any fixed line of action in cases of this kind was determined upon.

Blakelock Knocked Out by Carroll at San Francisco.

Paul Boyton, the Noted Swimmer Thought to Have Been Drowned the Coast of Oregon-Arizona's Gold Fever:

By Telegraph to The Times.
SAN FRANCISCO, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The Suprema Court issued a writ today, returnable April 2d in Los Angeles, at the instance of J. Marion Brooks, to restrain John Fischer, Assessor of Los Angeles, from levying any assessments on plantiff's property.

The writ is merely issued to test the constitutionality of the new Los Angeles charter. It is understood that the same constitutional point is involved in each of the charters approved recently by the Legisla-ture, including those of Oakland, San Diego and Stockton.

IN SIXTEEN ROUNDS.

Carroll Knocks Blakelock Out at San Francisco.

San Francisco, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] A glove contest between Jimmie Carroll, formerly of Boston, and Sam Blakelock of England, took place and Sam Blacelock of England, took place tonight in the rooms of the California Athletic Club. The men weighed 133 pounds each. Young Mitchell and George McDonald were Blakelock's seconds and Sam Fitzpatrick and Tom Meadows acted for Carroll and Hiram . Cook was el referee. Fifteen hundred people present. Time was called at 9:45.

In the first two rounds the men sparred cautiously. Blakelot led but Carroll avoided him.

In the third round Blakelock got in a sharp one on Carroll's mouth with his left, and in the fifth Carroll got in a heavy blow on Blakelock's nose, drawing first blood. Fierce fighting followed, Carroll doing the best work.

best work.

From the sixth to the tenth round considerable rushing was done, honors apparently being even.

In the tenth round Carroll got in a terrific right-hander, knocking Blakelock down own.

In the eleventh round Carroll scored another knockdown, but the rushing pace told, and both men appeared weak.

Twelfth round—Blakelock came up fresh, but Carroll rushed him around the ring, bent on finishing him up. Sammy took his punishment bravely, showing considerable eleverness.

Thirteenth round—Blakelock was groggy, but plucky. Carroll got in a number of victous upper-cuts, Blakelock tapping him feebly.

recious upper-cuts, blakelock got in feebly.

In the fourteenth round Blakelock got in several good stabs with his left, and in the fitteenth led low, whereupon Carroli claimed a foul, which was not allowed. Carroli then rushed his opponent, the latter clinching in an effort to save himself. Carroll whirled around, hiting the Englishman in the face, but the latter would not go down.

OTTAWA (Ont.), March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The budget debate continued in Parliament fought. All the Americans wanted was to get the trade of Canada and to give nothing in return. The resolutions of in return. The resolutions of nan Hitt were indorsed by the thing in return. nothing in return. The resolutions of Congressman Hitt were indorsed by the Canada Liberals, who pretended to want only unrestricted reciprocity. The resolutions, continued the speaker, declared for commercial union, and this meant political union, and the Liberals could not deny it. Commercial union would abolish custom houses and discriminate against England in raturn for her sacrifices in favor of Canada. Continuing, amid interruptions, he held up an American political cartoon in which the American flax triumphantly waved over the union jack and the forms of prostrate tradesmen. The Monroe doctrine, he said, will never be realized in America. The American Union cannot enter into unrestricted reciprocity without Canada, because if she did it would be a violation of treatles with other nations, Canada is not for sale, and come what will she will work out her own destiny.

Paris.

Paris. March 19.—|By Cable and Associated Press.] There was a pessimist feeling boday regarding the position of credit houses, especially of the Banque d'Paris, which is much discussed. It is reported that the bank is deeply involved in the copper troubles and is not expected to pay a lividend for the past year. Moreover, it is stated that the directors of the concern announced at a bankers' meeting last evening that they were 'unsile' to subscribe for the relief of Comptoir d'Escompte, having themselves lent f.270,00,000 upon copper warrants. The decline of Société des Metaux shares is attributed to a report that the concern had definitely suspended payment and operations. Nevertheless there was a large amount of buying and repurchasing in the copper mine market today, the demand for Rio Tinto being especially strong.

Quotations at 3 p.m. were as follows: Société des Metaux, f.45; Rio Tinto, f.257.

London, March 19.—The Paris correspondent of the News says: The Société des Metaux has given notice of its inability to take deliveries of copper from mines and will tomorrow declare a suspension of payment and demand the appointment of a judicial receiver. London, March 19.— By Cable and Associated Press. In the Commons today, Sir William Harcourt announced that he intended to challenge the conduct of the Government in placing Irish officials paid by the public at the service of the Times in connection with that paper's charges against the Irish members of the House. He also announced that on the vote for Attorney-General Webster's salary, he should ask what state services the Attorney-General had rendered during the last nine months, and why any salary should be paid to him.

Gladstone denied the right of Goschen, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to calculate beforehand what time snould be allowed for discussion. He denied the right of the Government to take away the right of the House to the time necessary for a full discussion.

Salisbury Says the Tories Will Stick to the Last.

London, March 19.—[By Cable and Associated Press.] In a speech at Watford this evening Lord Salisbury states that nothing short of a vote of want of confidence would bring the Government to a premature end, and that those who thought otherwise were amusing themselves with vain dreams.

Lord Salisbury said he would not discuss forged letters or much larger matters of accusation against the Irish leaders, which were now before an eminently competent and impartial tribunal. The Government had no interest in the letters. The commission had been appointed to consider for wider and more important charges. There had been a deal of public embracing of the Parneilite leaders, but before expressing an opinion he would wait for the judgment of the commission.

Parneilite leaders, but before expressing an opinion he would wait for the judgment of the commission.

The Daily News, commenting on Lord Salisbury's speech at Waterford, says: "The Prime Minister's speech has sealed the fate of the Government. He has drawn his sword and has thrown away the scabbard. He is driven by the course of events into a state of desperate fury. Like Juno, he is glad to eat his enemies and to eat them raw. If Lord Salisbury were imprisoned for a technical breach of the law, and if any Radical referred to him as he referred to O'Brien, the offender would deserve to be ignominiously hooted from the society of decent people."

Scare in a Lodging-house.

Early this morning the inmates of the Grange lodging-house on San Pedro street were roused from their slumber by a fellow-lodger named slumber by a fellow-lodger named, David Hall, who, running down stairs in a terrified manner, divulged to those around him that he had committed a murder. The proprietor rushed upstairs and entered Hall's room, but beyond a few blood-spots on the bed nothing was discovered. The patrol wagon was summoned and he was conveyed to the city jail for safe keeping. He was found to be drunk and was locked up for the rest of the fight.

Sleeping on the Track. Frank Mertle, while in a state of beastly intoxication, lay down to sleep beastly intoxication, lay down to sleep off the effects of the liquors he had imbibed on the track opposite the Southern Pacific freight depot. Officer Schonecke observed him just as a train was switching, and, rushing up, grabbed him off the rails when the locomotive was within five feet of his prostrate body.

Horseflesh as Food.

[New Orieans Times-Democrat.]

There is undoubtedly a widespread prejudice, especially among Englishspeaking people, against the use of horseflesh for food; but this prejudice has no reasonable foundation and is by no means universal. Nations of such widely-different degrees of civilization as the French and the Tartars have long attested its merits and set the example of eating it. A Tartar or a Turcoman of Central Asia will not look at any other food if he can get horse, and the heartiness with which he consumes his favorite meat is borne witness to by travelers in description which challenge credulity.

The method of cookery in vogue among the Central Asian nomads would not, of course, commend themselves to western appetites, nor is it claimed that Tartartaste is a standard for all nations to adopt. But the French have established the laws of cookery by which all civilized people are governed, and their practical indorsement of horse flesh as food carries weight. If the Philadelphian experiment established that a 20-year-old horse is better than a beef, it is a pity that old horses that are past their work should not be eaten.

flow the Young People Planned and Carried Out Their Matrimonial Venture-A Romantic Story.

By Telegraph to The Times.
CHICAGO, March 19.—[By the Associated Press.] The Daily News' Milwaukee special says: Miss Pauline Fuller, fifth daughter of Chief-Justice Fuller, was married here tonight at the Kirby House by a just tice of the peace. The groom was J. Matt Aubery, Jr., of Chicago, and it was a run-away match. When the 6:30 St. Paul train tice of the peace. The groom was J. Matt Aubery, Jr., of Chicago, and it was a runaway match. When the 6:30 St. Paul train arrived this evening a petite woman was helped off the steps of a parior car by a well-knit young man with a smooth face. The lady was closely veiled, and was escorted to a carriage by her companion. They were driven at once to the Kirby House, where they registered. No room was assigned to them, and the lady and her companion spent the early evening in the hotel pariors.

About 9 o'clock the young man came down stairs and informed the clerk that he wanted a Justice of the Peace. Clerk Cole is well up on such affairs. He winked knowingly, and assured the young man that everything would be arranged inside of 15 minutes. Justice Gregory arrived. There was a hurried consultation, and then the young man brought the blushing young lady forward. The ceremony was a brief one, and the Justice, who is a very prossic gentleman, put on no extra frills. He did not know that the bride was a daughter of the United States, and neither did any of those who were present outside of the contracting parties. When the ceremony was concluded the old Justice called for witnesses, and two young men were captured in the billiard room and ran in to affix their names to the necessary documents, and the pair were now legally and firmily spliced. The justice coughed dryly. The young man silped a bill into his hand, and Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey were escorted to the bridal chamber. Mrs. Aubrey, nec Paulina Fuller, is 19 years of age, highly educated and a remarkably handsome woman. J. Matt Aubrey, Tr., is 28 years of age. He is a son of the geperal western agent of the Merchants' Despatch Fast Freight line.

LJ. M. Aubrey, Sr., has been a resident of Chicago since 1876, when he left Milwaukee. He is well known here, and Congressman Issae Van Shaack is one of his most intimate friends. Young Aubrey is employed in his father's office in Chicago, and is a handsome young feliow.

As near as can be learned, the acquaintance of the father recognized her fight to do as the pleased. Mrs. Fuller, however, vehemently opposed the match.

About this time Lawyer Fuller was named as Chief Justice of the United States. Mrs. Fuller gleefully packed up and carried Mrs. Misses Fuller. About the ist of last January Miss Pauline informed her mother that she was 19 years of age, and that she intended to make a trip to Chicago. Mrs. Fuller proceed the trip, but the girl was firm in her determination, and a few days later she left. Since that time she has been in Chicago visiting friends of the family.

The story of the elopement of the young pair is an interesting one and demonstrates that young Aubery has cut his eye teeth. To begin with he hired two detectives to shadow him and his affianced until they left Chicago. These two quardians he paid $8 apiece. His object was to learn if any one was following them and to prevent the young lady from being rescued. It was early this afternoon when he met Miss Fuller, and Gunther's candy store was the trysting place.

They boarded a Milwaukee and St. Paul

Fuller, and Gunther's candy store was the trysting place.

They boarded a Milwaukee and St. Paul train at the Union depot at 2:30 o'clock. To make matters more interesting young Aubrey's father also left for Milwaukee on the Northwestern road; at least that is what the young bridegreom thought this evening while flushed with the success of his elopement. However, all efforts to locate the senior Aubrey this evening were unavailing. Young Mr. Aubrey, to use his own language, "will rustle around a bit" in Milwaukee before returning. aukee before returning.

Narrow Escape of a Train.

Delta, March 19.—A large force of workmen labored all hight to get the engine of yesterday's south-bound passenger train on the track. It left the rails on the curve near Delta. The river at that point washed out the embankment antil the ends of the ties projected over the precipitous bank of the river. Engineer Gardner stopped the train in half a car's length or the train would have gone over the bank into the river. The work was completed this morning and all trains are moving.

SIMI RANCHOI

Cheap Lands. Good Lands. Prices and Terms to Encourage Settlers.

So much has been said and written about the high prices for ordinary farming and fruit land in Southern California that many Eastern people think that no good land can be had at less than $500 per acre in any good locality. But if you will call at the headquarters of Simi Land and Water Company you will find that you can buy well watered stock ranges at $5 to $15 per acre, and every one of these ranges contains more or less rood farming land. You can buy first-class walley lands for $50 to $75 per acre, and every one of these ranges contains more or less rood farming land. You can buy first-class walley lands for $50 to $75 per acre, and every one of these ranges contains more or less rood farming land. You can buy first-class walley lands for $50 to $75 per acre, and small tracts of 10, $50 or $60 acres, for fruit farms, at $25 to $60 acres can be please for fruit farms, at $25 to $60 per acre. This company cares nothing for booms, and eaks no inflated prices for their lands. We own nearly 100,000 acres, and have a perfect and undisputed title. The object is to furnish good lands, to actual settlers, at prices within reach of any who can buy land at $11, and on terms which will enable men of moderate means to acquire homes in an attractive and healthful part of Southern California. We do not olaim to have the best land in the ttate, and at present are not directly on a railroad, but expect to be before long. But we do claim to offer better land and more advantages and on easier terms of payment than any other place that has been brought to our notice. It will cost you nothing but a postal card to get detailed information about these iands. If you want a farm or a stock range write or call at 19 West First street, Loc Angeles, and ask about the Simi ranch.

POMEROY & GATES. 16 Court St. Opp. Courthouse. TO CAPITALISTS.

For a short time we offer for sale the famous "Las Pennsquitas" ranch sixteen miles from San D ego city, comprising about seven thousand acres, fenced and ecross-feeced. One thousand acres of it produces annually a heavy volunteer crop of cats.

Most of the land is smooth and suitable for youngards. The adjoining town and valley of Poway are producing the fluest raisin grapes in the State free from all disease.

Never-failing springs supply water for stock frigation and domestic use.

The improvements consist of a large fitteen-room ranch house, fligge barn, carriage, tool and chicken house, corrais, etc.; also orchard of two hundred and fifty bearing orange trees filled with fruit, also pear, peach, prune and cityes in bearing; vineyard of two varieties of grapes in full bearing: rare plants surround the house and grounds.

For stock purposes this ranch can be made to pay large interest, and when subdivided will give immense opportunities.

The piece is offered as a whole for 225 per will give immense opportunities.

The place is offered as a whole for $25 per acre all through, or a three-fifths interest will be sold at a slight advance.

J. B. HAGGIN, ESQ.

KERN COUNTY, CAL. in Subdivisions of 10, 20 and 40 7,000 ACRES of Fruit, Vegetable, and Alfalfa Land, within one to seven miles from Bakersfield, being portions "Hop Ranch,"

"Cotton Ranch," "Jewett Ranch," and other Ranches.

Also, Choice Residence and Business Sites in Bakersfield.

This is the initial offering, and the commencement of the subdivision of the large possessions of Mr. J. B. HAGGIN, in Kern County. The property embraced in it includes someof the finest lands in the county, as all well informed residents of BAKERSFIELD will testify. About 2500 acres of the land offered is in affalfa, and can be rented or otherwise utilized to yield a large income, and a high percentage upon a valuation of from $150 to $200 per acre. Other portions of the offering are used for vegetable and garden purposes, while the balance is composed of land rich and fortile, awaiting only the industrious settler to demonstrate its great adaptability to fruits and the products of this wonderfully proline soil. A large portion of these lands lie along and adjacent to UNION AVENUE, which as at present dedicated extends from Kera River south through BAKERSFIELD, a distance of 10 miles, and which is 115½ feet in width. The other tracts are reached by excellent.

Town Lots.

Town Lots.

With the immense settlement that must in the nature of things follow the subdivision into small farms of such a large area of valuable and productive land around BAKERS-FIELD; with the steady stream of Immigration that will pour into this section of the country, transforming the county into one gigantic colony, with its countless number of orchards and vineyards, drawing to it men of enterprise and capital, BAKERSFIELD, with its incomparable water power, and other natural advantages; with its railroad facilities at hand, and the almost positive certainty of being the terminal point of another line, will grow to, and become, beyond a doubt, a city of great proportions, and town lots will become very valuable. Within the last year extensive improvements have been projected and completed at BAKERSFIELD. The SOUTHERN HOTEL, a large and handsome brick and iron structure, costing 3100,000, will be opened to the public about the middle of March, ensuring all who attend this sale comfortable accommodations. A street railway has been in suecessful operation for a year, the town is well aupplied with water, and a fine quality of illuminating gas is furnished from the works just completed, at prices ruling in other interior cities. Other important caterprises of a private nature are contemplated and some well under way. The lots we offer are centrally located, and within a few blocks of the new SOUTHERN HOTEL.

For speculative or practical purposes, the villa lots included in this offering must commend themselves to all. Their proximity to the railroad and the business center of BAKERS-FIELD, and the remarkable fortility of the soil make them extremely valuable for suburban homes, while their future worth can scarcely be overestimated.

WATER FOR IRRIGATION. The lands to be sold are amply supplied with water for irrigation, from the Kern Island Cannl, at rates now the lowest in the State, and fixed and regulated by the County Board of Super-

We are still here to defend the public from the so-called sneaks from behind the door clothing catchers. We could unfold a tale that would shame and make them hide their heads in oblivion; things that they have done would be a shame to repeat to the world. They have the idea that honest dealing is a orime in merchandizing. If they can't rob each customer as he enters their establishments they don't think they have done the proper thing, but our main mission is to show them up in their right light. We know it is not pleasant for them to hear the truth, it is not in their line, and wonder how it is when they bear it. We're not astonished when we hear our patrons say to us why we have to pay $12 for this suit in a certain clothing store not many miles away and you offer it at $6.50. This is but an every day occurrence. We smile and say nothing. We are aware that its their usual custom. Our motto is and shall be: "We will lead if we lose." CONSUMPTION. ONSUMPTION.

The early symptoms of this disease are a sense of weariness upon little exercise, a disease position to remain passive and dide, a peculiar easily ness to the effect of cold, and a short ease of breath upon moving quickly or assending a bill or stairs, a slight, hacking lough, with or without expectoration, figure and the cold of the shoulder blades. The symptoms are we loward or during the night slight fewer in the shoulder blades. The symptoms are wo loward or during the night slight fewer in that iternoon; cold feet and hands, and, in many lases, blue lividity of the lips and roots of the larger nails.

sumption. It is a disease inherited from our foreignments presenting itself in the form of tubercles, which appear in the lung tissue proper, and not on the munous surface, as in the local kind. The tubercles at first consist of a cheesy substance, in yeffowish frisble masses, after which they form small granules like millet seed, bluish-white and semi-transparent. Later in the disease this morbid matter becomes diffused uniformly throughout the tasues.

marent. Later in the disease this morbid matter becomes diffused uniformly throughout the tissues.

Constitutional consumption is a common form of lung disease. The progress is slow, but, if lot to itself, no less sure. It usually begins with a dry cough. The cough used to be, and is still, by many, regarded as the cause instead of the effect. The real cause is the tubercles in the upper part of one or both lungs. In the early stage of the disease these tubercles are exceedingly minute, the patient not at all suspecting their presence. Gradually they develop into more active disease, and then follows the train of symptoms which leaves no doubtas to its true character. Some times spiriting of blood or slight streaks in the muous is the first indication of tubercular deposits, or it may be chilly sensation in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the back, followed by more or less heat in the land the cheeks. The slow and gradual inroads of this form of consumption leave the stomach and appetite undisturbed for a censiderable time. Finally, however, heat of censiderable time. Finally, however, heat of censiderable has not strength become rapid, the chest contracts, the feature sharpen, the eye attains an unusual brilliancy, and the patient begins to realise that he is in the least stage of confirmed consumption.
